

My School Had to Close

Everyone gets sick sometimes.

Right now, there are more germs in the air that might make it harder for people to stay healthy.

Schools all over Buffalo are closed, including Autism Services (ASI) so that we can all stay healthy and stop the spread of these germs.

When I have to stay home from school, I might feel frustrated or confused.

My friends and teachers are spending time at home, just like me.

It okay that my school is closed because I can find lots of things to do at home.

When I feel frustrated, confused, or upset, I can talk to my family and find something that I like to do.

I might want to read a story, listen to music, color pictures, or play outside to keep me busy while I am not in school.

Welcome
Back To

I do not know when I will go back to school, but my teachers and family will tell me when our school is back open.

When it is time to come back to school, it might be hard to get back into my routine. My teachers will be there to help me and they will be happy to see me!
